- New members and Dr. Villanti were introduced.
- We reviewed the results of the team's self-assessment from last June. No one felt that there was any issue to address.
- We discussed a suggestion that came up in June to have students provide feedback to their teachers about their teaching after students have received their report cards in June. We discussed a few ideas, such as anonymity, using a Google Form, teachers creating an individualized survey, starting small with teacher representatives. Dr. Villanti raised the question about whether the feedback would be foible. Dr. Villanti will form a committee to work on this.
- Next Meeting: Dr. Villanti will schedule a meeting for a Monday in November or December (not November 21).
